

TIGER

Boys in First Grade or 7 Years Old

Welcome to the Boy Scouts of America! Tiger Cub Scouts is the beginning of what we hope will become a lasting relationship between your son and the Scouting program.

The Tiger Cub Scout program is designed to meet the needs of the youngest members of the BSA. Your son will be greatly helped by your enthusiastic participation in the many parent-son activities that are the core of the Tiger Cub Scout program.

This form is designed to give you a closer glimpse into the Tiger Cub Scout program and handbook. For more information, visit www.cubscouts.org.

Your Boy is a Member of a Tiger Den...

- The Tiger den is made up of no more than eight boys who are in the first grade or seven years old.
- The den meets two to three times a month. One of the den meetings each month is a fun and educational field trip.
- Parents must accompany their Tiger to all meetings.
- The Tiger den has a den leader, but the den leader shares the planning of the den meetings with the parents.

Your Boy is a Member of a Cub Scout Pack...

- A pack consists of several dens with boys from the different age groups. The dens meet together once a month for a pack meeting.
- The Cubmaster leads the monthly pack meeting, but each den will have a part in the pack meeting.
- Some months, the pack meeting will have special themes such as Pinewood Derby, Blue & Gold Banquet or guest speakers. Other months may be devoted to recognizing the Scouts for the projects they have completed by the presentation of belt loops and activity pins or rank advancements.

TIGER ADVANCEMENT

In Scouting, advancement is the process by which a member meets certain requirements and earn recognition. Boys in Cub Scouting work on advancement with their families and at den meetings. To advance, Tigers work on the Bobcat Trail, and then complete Cub Scout Adventures. As these are completed, they are awarded belt loops to mark their progress.

Cub Scouts Must First Earn the Bobcat Badge...

The first step of Cub Scout advancement is for a boy to earn his Bobcat badge before he completes any requirements for adventures.

1. Learn and say the Scout Oath, with help if needed.
2. Learn and say the Scout Law, with help if needed.
3. Show the Cub Scout sign. Tell what it means.
5. Show the Cub Scout handshake. Tell what it means.
6. Say the Cub Scout motto.
7. With a parent or guardian, complete the exercises in the pamphlet How to Protect Your Child from Child Abuse: A Parent's Guide - Bobcat Requirements.

Tigers Complete Adventures...

Once a boy has completed the Bobcat Trail, he works on completing seven adventures.

- Backyard Jungle
- Games Tigers Play
- My Family's Duty to God
- Team Tiger
- Tiger Bites
- Tigers in the Wild
- One other adventure of your choice (from the list of electives)

Once a Scout completes the requirements for the seven adventures, he will be eligible to receive his Tiger badge, signifying that he has earned the Tiger rank and can move on to completing more adventures.

Tiger Cubs Work on Elective Adventures...

After your boy has earned the Tiger badge, he can earn more belt loops by completing elective adventures outlined in the handbook. The wide variety of adventures help broaden a boy's horizons and reinforce the aims of Scouting. Electives provide advancement opportunities and recognition for your boy until he is eligible to begin working on the Wolf rank (boys in second grade or 8 years old).
