Introduction

This guidebook is to assist the Camp Staff of both Camp Wilderness and Butler Wilderness Outpost to better understand their roles and functions at camp. This is a living document, as camp and positions evolve over time, so too will the expectations of those positions. We will keep this guidebook updated as much as possible. As always, camp staff need to be flexible, in cases of emergencies, illness, or large projects we may find ourselves helping out in other areas to make sure the campers receive the best possible program. Remember, a Scout is Helpful!

All staff at Camp Wilderness and Butler Wilderness Outpost must be registered with the BSA, have current Youth Protection training, and have an application and contract on file. This includes full time staff, seasonal staff, Counselors in Training, Volunteer Commissioners, Camp Chaplains, and Program Volunteers. This guidebook is broken down into three sections:

- Reservation Positions – these are camp staff positions that have responsibilities that span both Camp Wilderness and Butler Wilderness Outpost. While these individuals may have responsibilities that span both camps that does not necessarily mean they report directly to the Reservation Director. Many of these positions will report directly to the Camp Wilderness Camp Director or Program Director. They are included in this section to reinforce that their leadership and expertise is needed at both locations to provide a quality program for all campers. These individuals should also maintain a working relationship with the Butler Wilderness Outpost Camp Director and Program Director to keep them informed and part of the discussions for the program areas..
- Camp Wilderness Positions – these are camp staff positions specific to the Boy Scout operations of camp.
- Butler Wilderness Outpost – these are camp staff positions specific to the Cub Scout operations of camp.
